DISGRACEFUL OCCUPATION OF LARGE AREAS OF WASHINGTON BY RAILROADS-"IT AMOUNTS ARLY TO BLAME.

In the discussion of a bill in 1886 regulating following lively debate occurred in the Senate: Mr. Ingalls-The Commissioners also had their attention called to the condition of the steam railroads in this city. Those who are familiar with the suburbs, especially in the northeastern parts of this municipality, I think will bear witness that values have been practically destroyed in that region by the unjust occupation of the streets, avenues and public reservations by the steam railroad companies. Within three or four days last past, while traversing the southern portion of the city, I saw, I am safe in saying, hundreds of freight cars, loaded and unloaded, passenger cars, cabooses and flat cars-not passing through the streets and highways, but stored and standing therein. Those corporations have assumed to use the avenues, notably Virginia and Maryland avenues, for yard purposes, for storing their ears that are not in motion, and thereby practically destroying that portion of the city for purposes of business and residence.

saw lately in one of the newspapers a statement to the effect that one of these corporations had succeeded steathily, privily, without the knowledge of the Commissioners, in gaining possession of three public reservations, which they were using for the purpose of switching and storing cars, and in various ways using them for private purposes, when, if they had been private persons, they would have been compelled to have paid hundreds of thousands of doilars for the property whose use and value they thus willfully and wantonly destroy.

* Both the street cars and the steam railroads are chartered by act of Congress, and their occupation of the streets, alleys, avenues and reservations within the limits prescribed by their charters is lawful. Mr. Edmunds-They have got a good deal

Mr. Ingalls-I know they have, Mr. Vest-Before this subject passes away I should like to ask the chairman of the com-mittee on the District of Columbia what is the condition of the bill or bills-I believe there are two of them-in regard to a union depot in this city, intended for the purpose of getting rid of these railroads through reservations. That bill has been pending several years, believe-I know for five years in the Senate and also in the other house-and it is by far THE MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION TO THE PEOPLE

OF THIS CITY that is now pending before Congress.

Mr. Ingalls-I quite agree with the Senator from Missouri, and for twice five years my attention has been directed to that subject, and my best efforts have been in the direction of some solution of that difficulty; but I presume that the Senator from Missouri knows that the railroad interests in this city are conflicting and hostile. Whatever one corporation wants the other resists. Such has been the conflict. the clashing, that whenever any measure has been brought before the committee, or by the committee before the Senate, there have been influences, subtle it may be, and undetected. but powerful enough to prevent action, upon the ground of course that the public conve-nience would not be conserved by the measures that have been submitted for considera-I am aware, Mr. President, that the condition of the railroad termini in this city and the occupation of large portions of the area of the District by railroad corporations under present conditions is simply disgraceful. It amounts almost to crime, vast numbers of people have had their property practically destroyed and confiscated by the unlawful occupation of the cally uninhabitable. The railroads have carried on their business so that it has been impossible to worship Almighty God in the churches erected for that purpose. And suits have been brought and the people have been petitioning here and representing their wrongs, and measure after measure has been introduced and carried through certain stages; but one corporation having got a tract of land on a public reservation worth $500,000 without paying a cent, a site which it would have been required to pay $500,000 for in any other city, has interposed, and interposed successfully. its opposition to all measures requiring it to withdraw from that reservation, to take up its tracks through 6th street, to cease to bisect that magnificent mall extending from the Capitol to the Naval Observatory, and carry on its operations where it would be as much to the convenience of the public, two squares farther south, on that broad space at the intersection of Virginia and Maryland avenues.

CONGRESS IS UNQUESTIONABLY TO BLAME. Lam not finding any fault with the railroad corporations. They have a valuable franchise. and they mean to keep it. Here is one of them. under the very eaves droppings of this Capitol, with a terminal station that is a shame and a disgrace to civilization; all its approaches are in public highways, withdecent accommodations for the public, and claiming that it has a vested right under a previous act of Congress to do as it pleases until 1910; and the other corporation, enring special privileges on account of the obloquy that was felt against its rival, has located its sheds and depot on a public reser vation, destroying access to one portion of the city by the occupation of avenues and streets with its tracks, and both being able to so combine when anything is proposed which threatens their interest that, although absolutely hostile upon every other point, they are united in resisting every attempt made to dislodge them from their present injurious occupation of the public property.

There is a good deal of secret history about this matter, Mr. President; there are a great many open secrets that perhaps it is not well to discuss; but when the Senator from Missouri inquires why it is that this matter is left unacted upon, why it is the public have been left to suffer these exactions, I can say that it has not been for want of honest effort, repeatedly made, to secure the concurrence of these rival interests in some measure that would enable their friends in Congress and out of it to agree upon some site for a union depot, and thus re-lieve the people from this burden under which they now suffer.

Mr. Van Wyck—Mr. President, it must strike those who take an interest in the legislation of ngress affecting the rights of individuals that the statement made by the chairman of the committee on the District of Columbia is a startling one, that the steam railroads entering this city should use the franchise given them arbitrarily and, without authority, take occupation of reservations or other property, and that that should be continued year after year, and that the American Congress, denyng to 200,000 people the right of self-control should sit here nine months in one year and three in another and leave this community entirely at the mercy of the avarice, the greed and the extertion of corporations of this nature. It is a startling proposition. There is no excuse for it anywhere; none whatever. There is no allegation that Congress is poweress before such great mammoth corporations. If there could be such an excuse it would be a worse infamy than the crime alleged against them. Our crime is worse than that of the railfead companies and the Senator has properly designated their occupation of this franchise as infamous, and so it is. The citizens of this city will be rejoiced at the statement made by the Senator from Kansas, because it insures to them the co-operation and the power which that Senator, from the District committee, may extend to the people who have been long suffering in this city. *. * So it seems these mammoth corpora-tions can take Congress by the throat, and although it sits nine months in one year and three in the next, the great representatives of the American republic tremble before these huge corporations, and the only remedy for the individual, the citizen (who has no protection by reason of any self-control on the part of the people here, or any regulation of their own affairs), is that he must go to the courts single-handed and alone to deny the right of a railroad company to enter the highways, the streets, and destroy the value of his property and make it useless. I judge so from the fact that the people of South Washington have etitioned not only this year, but the last half dozen years, petitioned, without redress, Con-gress to give them some protection, and until this time their request has passed apparently unheeded. The abuse of this franchise was flagrant, so much so that it has been deserved for years and today has received the truthful characterization which the Senator from Kansas has given it. I trust now that this may be a little ray of hope to the citizens of Washington that the day of deliverance may be approaching not only from the exactions and demands and outrages of the corporations of steam railroads, but of other corporations, which, for the last ten years, through Congress, have compelled a great city and nearly a quarter of a million of popula tion to be subjected in their rights and in their interests to corporations started and created by act of Congress.

UNITARIANS MAY BELONG. A Question That Threatened to Disrupt the King's Daughters Settled.

About a year ago the central council of the order of King's Daughters sent out a pamphlet ALMOST TO A CRIME"-CONGRESS UNQUESTION- to the effect that all persons wishing to join the organization must believe in the Holy Trinity. This notice gave rise to a good deal of dissatisfaction all over the country, as many the use of the city streets and reservations the of the circles are made up of Unitarians. After considering the question for quite a while the central council decided to withdraw their obnoxious leaflet. Certain denominations at once District of Columbia was held at St. Mark's Episcopal Church to discuss the subject. Miss Lipscomb presided, and after she had stated the objects of the meeting the corresponding secretary, Miss E. C. Clark, read several letters from the central council of the order explaining their action, which said that they held firm to the constitution, and that in their opinion any one who believed in the Lord Jesus Christ might be admitted to membership. On motion of Mr. Wm. Hodge it was decided by a vote of 50 to 1 to accept the position of the central council of New York as that of the circles here, and the important question of membership was Fined for Assault.

In the Police Court yesterday the free reading room on 11th street near Q street northwest was the subject of a trial, Simon Ford being charged with an assault on W. A. Howard yesterday afternoon. Ford is the owner of the house and Howard was left in portions of this city lying to the northeast and to the southeast and south of the Capitol for the that Ford ordered Howard to leave gave Mr. May just half an hour in which to purposes of locomotion and car storage. Portions of the city have been rendered practithat Howard was there to get Ford to sign a receipt. On the part of the defense a number of witnesses testified that there was no assault, most of them stating that they saw the pro-ceedings from the porch. The court inti-mated that too many people were getting on that porch unless it was a strong one. The court said there was clearly an assault and imposed a fine of $10 or 30 days.

A Persistent Pistol Carrier. Charles Thompson and Andrew Holmes, colored boys, who live in South Washington, were in the Police Court several months ago for carrying loaded pistols. Both were convicted and they went down together. Thompson appeared in the Police Court again yesterday on a charge of carrying concealed weapons and Judge Miller heard the story of the trouble between the boys. When they were sent to the work house some months ago Jennie Chapman was Holmes' best girl, but Thompson got out after serving sixteen days of his sentence and while Holmes was still in prison Thompson got into Jennie's good graces. That caused a coolness between the boys, but they still appeared friendly. A few days ago they played pool together and got into a dispute because Holmes tossed one of the pool balls and it struck Thompson on the hand. Lawyer Ricks plead Thompson's case. He explained the love affair as though he was an authority in such matters, and said the Holmes in such matters and said that Holmes swore against Thompson because the girl jitted him. Judge Miller said he hoped it would only be a few weeks before there would be a law to send pistol carriers to the penntentiary instead of to the work house. A fine of $50 or 90 days was thereupon imposed.

Pleasant Remembrance. From the Veterans' Advocate, Concord, N.H.

Mr. Juo. A. Prescott, a former resident of this city, is president of the new Lincoln National Bank, Washington, D.C. We have pleasant recollections of Mr, Prescott. When the twelfth New Hampshire Volunteers were in Washington on their way from the battle of Gettysburg to Point Lookout, Md., he visited the Concord boys and aided them in getting a "good square meal," of which the boys stood in great need at that time. "May you live long and prosper," friend John.

The Boy Killed at Hyattsville. The boy who was killed on the railroad at Hyattsville Sunday, as heretofore published in THE STAR, was Albert Brooks and not Wm. Harris, as was supposed. Brooks worked in a saloon on New Jersey avonue and sold papers on Sunday. He had been in the habit of getting a bundle of papers Sunday mornings and selling them through the country and then with other boys he played "crap." Two boys were with him when he was killed, but they

THE HEADS OF THE SCHOOLS. Matters Considered by the Citizens' Committee of One Hundred.

The public schools of the city were discussed at a meeting last evening of the Citizens' Representative Committee of One Hundred. The necessity for two additional high school buildings, one in East Washington and one in Georgetown, was set forth in a resolution introduced by Mr. De Land. Mr. W. C. Dodge made a pleat for the primary schools and expressed the hope that they would not be neglected in favor of the more advanced objected and insisted that the rule should hold schools. In the opinion of Dr. Chas. Allen, good, and it looked for a time as though the the pay of the janitors was not adequate to the end of the organization was at hand. Last services rendered, and Mr. De Land thought night a meeting of the central circle of the that more liberality could be shown to the teachers in this respect. The establishment of a school of technology was favored by Dr. Thomas Taylor. A resolution was adopted asking Congress to provide ample primary school buildings, one additional high school and a school of technology. The meeting then adlourned.

Death of an Old Citizen.

Daniel Delozier Davidson, who died yesterday in the eighty-second year of his age, had lived in Washington all his life. His father was at one time cashier of the old branch bank of the United States, which was situated on the corner of 13th and F streets. For the pass thirty-five years Mr. Davidson had been a clerk in the government service. Previous to that time he occupied positions of trust in some of the banks of this city. He was a cultured gen-tieman of the old school. He leaves a large circle of friends. His funeral services will held at 4 o'clock tomorrow at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, of which he has been a consistent member for many years.

Colored Men and the Police. A meeting of colored citizens was held last evening at the Second Baptist Church and a committee of fifteen was appointed to wait on the Commissioners and call their attention to the cruel treatment of the colored people by the police officers. The Hutchison case was referred to and a committee consisting of R. D. Ruffin, Wilson Smith and Austin Fickling was appointed to inquire into it. Money was subscribed to prosecute the officers. Mr. J. W. Cromwell presided and Miss Florence Smith was secretary. Speeches denunciatory of the acts complained of were made by E. M. Hewlett. esq., H. Price Williams, James M. Ricks W. C. Martin and Lewis Clark.

A JUST JUDGE. Judge Tulley Brings Chicago Police to Account.

Joseph Kaiser, the New York anarchist. whom the Chicago police arrested on suspicion of knowing something about the placing of the bomb near the Haymarket monument, was brought into Judge Tulley's court yesterday morning on a writ of habeas corpus sued out by a friend.

Kaiser, it is claimed, was arrested more than week ago and locked up on mere suspicion, the police refusing to book him or allow his friends to see or communicate with him. When the case came up Lieut. Kipley, who was present representing the police, announced that he would drop the case against Kaiser and allow him to go. This did not suit Judge Tulley, however, who said: "I cannot too strongly denounce this practice of locking people up without charging them with any crime and without allowing their friends to come near them. It is a barbarous custom and I propose to investigate this matter and see by what warrant of law the police do these things. City Prosecutor May represented the city and Judge Tulley was informed that the case would not be dropped without a return to the

BUYING INDIAN LAND. Shrewd Red Men Who Know How to Drive a Bargain.

A Guthrie dispatch says: The council of the Sac and Fox tribe met the Indian commission Sunday evening and negotiations for the cession of 495,000 acres of land were begun. The commissioners made the council no offer, but merely told them that the government wanted them to take lands in severalty. The spokesman of the coun-cil, Jokuk, said the tribe was willing to take allotments on these conditions: That each and every Indian be allowed 200 acres of land; that $2 per acre be paid for surplus lands; that only those living on the reservation, being members of the tribe, should receive any benefits. The commissioners said it would be impossible to accept all the conditions, but they would make a formal offer later.

CLEOPATRA'S ASHES. An Egyptlan Thinks He Has Them and Will Sell for $60,000.

Alexander Tagliaferro of Alexandria, Egypt, writes to the directors of the world's fair that he is in a position to furnish them an interesting exhibit. He has sent the officials a photograph of a sarcophagus which he asserts is that of Cleopatra. It was recently discovered in Cæsar's Camp near Alexandria by archæologists. When the sarcophagus was opened the contents were in ashes with the exception of the skeleton, which is still preserved. Mr. Tagliaferro says he is prompted to negotiate with the exposition authorities from notices which he has seen in the newspapers from the United States an-nouncing that the khedive of Egypt has been asked by the directors of the exposition for the nummy of Ramises. His price is

A Census Enumerator's Suicide. Frank L. Lorgue, thirty-three years old, of No. 165 West Twenty-seventh street. New York, carriage striper by trade, losing his job, sought some time ago a position as census enumerator. He was successful and received the appointment. His friends say that in his high delight he went off and got intoxicated and did not get over his spree in time to report for duty at 8 o'clock Monday morning. His failure to do so made him liable to imprisonment and a fine of $500. Fear of the consequences of his failure to report for duty preyed on his mind and in the afternoon he committed suicide by taking arsenic. His friends also say that he had been down-hearted for days for another cause—the girl to whom he had been engaged jilted him and was married to another man.
